Giving you the Edge in Business

SPRING 2025 NEWSLETTER

Emailing Statements

Instead of printing your statements to hand to vendors, contractors or customers, you can email them directly through the Logger's Edge, as long as you use Outlook as your email client. Note: this will require specific Microsoft licenses if accessing Logger's Edge through a remote connection. This will allow you to review the email draft before sending as well, and have a default subject and email text. This feature is available at an additional charge. Reach out to us to learn more and to find out if your Microsoft license will work for this.

Keyboard Shortcuts

The Logger's Edge has many keyboard shortcuts that can make your data entry process much simpler and faster. If you are a strong keyboard user, these may be very useful to you. And if you do use some keyboard shortcuts, there might be some tricks that you didn't know! Watch this video to see all the keyboard shortcuts available in the software:

Reconciling Revenue

While the Logger's Edge is great at matching your load tickets with your revenue rates to calculate your revenue, you still want to make sure what's in the system matches up what you are receiving from the mills. Clerical errors can still cause some trouble with revenue, especially if any driver or contractor's pay depends on it. In order to make sure your Logger's Edge revenue is 100% accurate, we have 2 methods that will do the job:

1. Standard Revenue Reconciliation Method
2. Post Check Method

Watch these short videos above to see how they work. While they both accomplish the same goal, they have small differences that may lead you to lean towards the other. These methods can be coupled with a report to show which loads have not yet been "marked as paid".

Testimonials & Company Logos

Many of you have been generous enough to share kind words about the Logger's Edge in our testimonial pages (You can navigate to the other regions by clicking "Testimonials" then selecting the appropriate region). Many of you have also shared your company logos with us, which are showcased on our client logos page. If you'd like to leave a testimonial and/or have your logo displayed, feel free to email us at support@caribousoftware.com to have them uploaded.
